PacificSource plans office move within Boise to the Idaho market.”

IBR STAFF REPORT

PacificSource Health Plans is planning to move to a lease 16,531-square-foot-space this autumn, a spokeswoman for the company said June 21.

PacificSource is an independent, not-for-profit company that provides medical, dental, prescription drug, and vision insurance. The Oregon-based company employs 61 people in downtown Boise and doesn't plan to increase its staff size in the immediate future, said Colleen Thompson, a spokeswoman.

“The new building will give us space to add staff as we bring on more membership in the Idaho market over time, however,” Thompson said. “This move represents our long term commitment
